

LEGAL

Top 10 Leaders Shaping New Jersey's Energy & Natural Resource Laws

BUSINESS TODAY by Business Today News · July 9, 2023 · 3 mins read to by Laura Penwell on Pexels.com

As the energy and natural resources sector continues to grow, legal professionals play a crucial role in advising clients on regulatory matters, mergers, compliance, and other legal aspects. In New Jersey, there are several highly skilled and experienced lawyers who specialize in energy and natural resources law. In this article, we will showcase and explain some of the most interesting lawyers in this field in New Jersey.

Steven S Goldenberg – Giordano Halleran & Ciesla PC

Steven Goldenberg is a highly respected lawyer with vast experience advising clients in the energy sector on regulatory matters. He is well-known for his expertise in rate cases, mergers, and compliance advice. Steven chairs the energy, climate change, and public utilities group at Giordano Halleran & Ciesla PC. With extensive knowledge, experience, and strong connections in the state, Steven is recognized as one of the most effective attorneys in terms of litigation skills and counseling capabilities.

Visit the website of Giordano Halleran & Ciesla PC for more information.

Colleen Foley – Saul Ewing LLP

Colleen Foley is a sought-after lawyer by energy companies and public utilities for her expertise in regulatory issues. As the vice chair of Saul Ewing LLP's energy practice, she brings significant knowledge and experience to a variety of matters, including M&A and financing transactions. Colleen is highly regarded for her depth of knowledge in energy law, serving as a tough litigator, advocate, and valued counselor. She is recognized for her diligence, attention to detail, and excellent communication skills.

Visit the website of Saul Ewing LLP for more information.

See also Canada's Top 10 Influential Energy Power Regulatory Attorneys:

Insights & Impact

James H. Laskey – Norris McLaughlin P.A.

James Laskey, a highly experienced corporate attorney, chairs the solar energy practice at Norris McLaughlin P.A. He is well-versed in both transactional matters and regulatory issues affecting clients in the utilities and energy space. With a reputation for being knowledgeable, analytical, and practical, James is known for his thoroughness and ability to address complex challenges in energy and utilities law. He brings valuable insights to agreements, presenting comprehensive solutions.

John A. Hoffman – Wilentz, Goldman & Spitzer, P.A.

John Hoffman is a highly regarded lawyer in the New Jersey market with over half a century of experience representing public utilities in regulatory matters. He has a strong reputation as a good lawyer and a strong advocate, making him a trusted advisor in the energy and natural resources sector.

Visit the website of Wilentz, Goldman & Spitzer, P.A. for more information.

Murray E. Bevan – Bevan, Mosca, Giuditta & Zarillo, P.C.

Murray Bevan is well-known for his practice as a lobbyist, regularly representing clients before the New Jersey Board of Public Utilities. Drawing on his experience as the chief of staff to the BPU President, he brings strong advocacy skills and political instincts to his practice. Murray is recognized as a strong lawyer who advocates effectively and communicates well.

Visit the website of Bevan, Mosca, Giuditta & Zarillo, P.C. for more information.

Courtney Schultz – Saul Ewing LLP

Courtney Schultz is an up-and-coming attorney with notable expertise in utility rate work. She handles cases at both the federal and state levels, demonstrating deep subject matter expertise and a resolute approach to litigation. Courtney has a strong understanding of the law and excels in risk assessment and management.

See also Top Legal Titans of the Tech World Revealed: Uncovering the Best of the Best!

Visit the website of Saul Ewing LLP for more information.

Gregory Eisenstark – Cozen O'Connor

Gregory Eisenstark focuses his practice on representing regulated utility companies. He handles base-rate cases, power purchase agreements, and other matters. Gregory is highly knowledgeable and offers sound advice to his clients, demonstrating thoughtfulness, analytical skills, and a commitment to their best interests.

James Meyer – Riker Danzig LLP

James Meyer is a well-regarded regulatory lawyer in the utility sector, particularly known for representing utility companies in regulatory proceedings. He assists electric utilities in seeking project approvals from the New Jersey Board of Public Utilities. James is recognized for his extensive experience, efficiency, and capabilities.

Visit the website of Riker Danzig LLP for more information.

Michael J. Connolly – Cozen O'Connor

Michael Connolly is an experienced practitioner, handling regulatory proceedings and litigation for clients in the energy and utilities sectors. Notably, he specializes in matters concerning renewable energy projects. With inside knowledge of how big utility companies operate and a wealth of experience in electric utility work, Michael is widely regarded as a top attorney in his field.

Stephen B Genzer – Saul Ewing LLP

Stephen Genzer has over four decades of experience representing clients before the New Jersey Board of Public Utilities. His practice focuses on rate cases and regulatory compliance. Stephen is a well-respected member of the utility Bar in New Jersey, valued for his contributions to the sector and his representation of water companies in the area.

Visit the website of Saul Ewing LLP for more information.

Sign up to our newsletter

See also Top 10 Influential Lawyers Steering Capital Markets through AIM in UK

First Name

Email address

I have read and agree to the terms & conditions